

Mason's Stearns Center "Thank-a-Teacher" Program 2018: A message for you from your students

Stearns Center for Teaching and Learning

Wed 10/17/2018 2:59 PM

To: Betsy McCall <bmccall6@gmu.edu>;

Stearns Center for Teaching and Learning

4400 University Drive, MS 4D6, Fairfax, Virginia
22030
703-993-6200 <> stearns@gmu.edu <>
stearnscenter.gmu.edu

October 16, 2018

Professor Betsy McCall:

We are delighted to recognize you through the Stearns Center for Teaching and Learning's "Thank-a-Teacher" program. Through this program, students acknowledge an instructor who has made a significant difference in their lives. Below are the comments that were submitted to our website (during the period of June 2017 through June 2018) highlighting the positive impact you have had.

Developing and maintaining high standards in teaching and mentoring is a challenging and time-consuming endeavor. The Stearns Center formally recognizes unsolicited student feedback and praise for Mason instructors and their efforts through this program. We add our thanks to you for the contributions that you have made to the academic and personal development of Mason students.

Sincerely,

Laura A. Lukes, Ph.D.
*Assistant Director,
Stearns Center for Teaching and Learning
Thank-a-Teacher Program Manager*

E. Shelley Reid, Ph.D.
*Director,
Stearns Center for Teaching and Learning*

Kimberly K. Eby, Ph.D.
Associate Provost for Faculty Affairs and Development

S. David Wu, Ph.D.
Provost and Executive Vice President

10/30/2018

Mail - bmccall6@gmu.edu

CC:

School of Business

Maury Peiperl, Dean

Amitava Dutta, Chair

I am lucky to have the best professor in this world. Wherever I may go in my life, I will always remember that I had an excellent guide in the form of a professor, You. God bless you and your family for the greatest sacrifice you are giving to students like myself.

BUS 310